Independent auditor's report on financial statements

To the Shareholders, Board of Directors and Officers of Magazine Luiza S.A.
Franca - SP

Opinion

We have audited the individual and consolidated financial statements of Magazine Luiza S.A. (the "Company"), identified as Individual and Consolidated, respectively, which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2022, and the statements of profit or loss, of comprehensive income (loss), of changes in equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the individual and consolidated financial position of Magazine Luiza S.A. as at December 31, 2022, and its individual and consolidated financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting practices adopted in Brazil and with the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB).

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Brazilian and International Standards on Auditing. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the individual and consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company and its subsidiaries in accordance with the relevant ethical principles set forth in the Code of Professional Ethics for Accountants, the professional standards issued by Brazil's National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (CFC) and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Emphasis of matter – Internal investigation into anonymous whistleblowing

As mentioned in Note 34 to the financial statements, Company management conducted certain internal investigation actions to verify and provide clarifications on the anonymous reporting of commercial activities allegedly in disagreement with the Company's Code of Conduct and Ethics. The actions to verify referred to reporting are still in preliminary phase and, at this moment, we are unable to foresee future developments deriving from this internal investigation process or any impacts therefrom on the individual and consolidated financial statements. Our opinion is not qualified in respect of this matters.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the individual and consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. For each matter below, our description of how our audit addressed the matter, including any commentary on the findings or outcome of our procedures, is provided in that context.

We have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the individual and consolidated financial statements section of our report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, our audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to our assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements. The results of our audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for our audit opinion on the accompanying financial statements.

Goodwill recoverability test

In accordance with the accounting practices adopted in Brazil and with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), the Company is required to conduct annual recoverability tests on the amounts recorded as goodwill to determine whether these amounts are impaired. As mentioned in Notes 12(b) and 16, the Company and its subsidiaries recorded goodwill deriving from business combinations which, as at December 31, 2022, amounted to R$1,263,632 thousand and R$2,251,090 thousand, and represented 3.8% and 6.0% of total assets in the individual and consolidated financial statements, respectively.

This was considered a key audit matter due to the magnitude of the amounts involved and to the fact that this test is conducted based on various assumptions and criteria, including market projections such as the stores' sales increase rates, discount rates and estimated margins, which are used for determining value in use, are complex and subjective and require use of judgment by the Company's executive board.

Our audit procedures involved, among others: (i) obtaining an understanding of the control activities designed and implemented by the executive board in reviewing and preparing the reviews of goodwill recoverability tests; (ii) involving valuation specialists to assist us in the goodwill recoverability tests, analyzing adequacy of the discounted cash flow model and the assumptions and methodologies used by the Company, and analyzing sensitivity of the impairment test results; (iii) comparing the growth rate and margin assumptions used by the Company with the assumptions reported or estimated by similar companies in addition to other procedures performed in order to assess reasonableness of these assumptions and completeness of the information used by the Company; (iv) assessing adequacy of the disclosures made by the Company on the most sensitive assumptions used in recoverability tests, i.e. assumptions that have a most significant impact on determining the recoverable amount of goodwill; (v) comparing assertiveness of projections prepared in prior periods with those prepared by the Company's Cash-Generating Unit (CGU) in the current year; (vi) comparing the recoverable amount calculated by the Company's executive board based on the discounted cash flows per cash-generating unit with the respective carrying amount of cash-generating units, which includes goodwill amounts; and (vii) assessing adequacy of the disclosures in Notes 12(b) and 16 to the individual and consolidated financial statements as at December 31, 2022.

Based on the results of the audit procedures performed on the annual goodwill impairment test, which are consistent with the executive board's assessment, we believe that the criteria, judgments and assumptions adopted by management to assess goodwill recoverability, as well as respective disclosures in Notes 12(b) and 16, are acceptable in the context of the individual and consolidated financial statements taken as a whole.

Recoverability of deferred income and social contribution tax assets

As mentioned in Note 11 (c), as at December 31, 2022, deferred income and social contribution tax assets recorded on temporary differences and income and social contribution tax losses amounts to R$1,033,410 thousand and R$1,096,109 thousand, and represented 3.1% and 2.9% of total assets in the individual and consolidated financial statements, respectively. The Company assessed recoverability of this deferred income and social contribution tax asset balance based on projected taxable profits. This was considered a key audit matter since this assessment involves a high level of judgment by the executive board based on assumptions and criteria used in preparing taxable profit projections, which are affected by expected future market and economic conditions.

Our audit procedures involved, among others: (i) obtaining an understanding of the control activities designed and implemented by the executive board in reviewing and preparing reviews of the recoverability tests on deferred income and social contribution tax assets; (ii) involving our Tax specialists to assist us in reviewing the assumptions and methodologies used by the Company for recording these balances in accordance with the tax legislation in force, as well as reviewing projected future taxable profits; (iii) checking whether the Company's executive board entities approved the projections of future taxable profits, which were prepared based on the Company's business plan; and (iv) assessing adequacy of the disclosures on this matter in Note 11.

Based on the results of the audit procedures performed on recoverability of deferred income and social contribution tax assets, which are consistent with the executive board's assessment, we believe that the criteria and assumptions adopted by the executive board, as well as respective disclosure in Note 11, are acceptable in the context of the individual and consolidated financial statements taken as a whole.

Provision for tax contingencies

As mentioned in Note 23, the Company is party of legal and administrative proceedings stemming from various tax disputes whose provision, as at December 31, 2022, amounted to R$720,252 thousand and R$1,083,023 thousand, representing 3.2% and 4.0% of total liabilities in the individual and consolidated financial statements, respectively. Assessing the likelihood of an unfavorable outcome and measuring provision for tax contingencies require judgment by the executive board, which relies on the support of the legal opinions provided by the Company's internal and external legal advisors. Changes in the assumptions used by the Company, which serve as a base for this judgment to be exercised, including the understanding of the tax authorities and the progress of tax disputes in court, may have a significant impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Additionally, as at December 31, 2022, the Company is party to tax proceedings amounting to R$2,775,480 thousand – individual financial statements and to R$3,393,107 thousand – consolidated financial statements, for which no provision was recorded in the consolidated financial statements due to the executive board's assessment, supported by the opinion of the Company's internal and external legal advisors, that the likelihood of an unfavorable outcome is possible.

This was considered a key audit matter due to magnitude of the amounts involved and the fact that the assessment of the likelihood of an unfavorable outcome and measurement of provision for contingencies of a tax nature involve a high level of professional judgment by the executive board together with the Company's internal and external legal advisors.

How our audit addressed this matter

Our audit procedures involved, among others: (i) analyzing the control activities designed and implemented by the executive board in the process of identifying and recording provisions for tax contingencies; (ii) assessing the accounting policies adopted by the Company for classifying legal and administrative proceedings into probable, possible or remote loss, including the assumptions used for measuring the amounts to be recorded as provision for tax contingencies; (iii) involving tax controversy specialists, who analyzed the proceedings disclosed relating to the contingencies rated as possible loss, taking into consideration the opinion of the Company's internal and external legal advisors; (iv) obtaining evidence on the risks of unfavorable outcomes considered by the Company in significant proceedings, including review of supporting documentation, legal and other opinions, as well as replies to confirmation letters sent to Company external legal advisors containing the current stage and loss prognosis of each tax proceeding; and (v) assessing adequacy of the disclosures in Note 23 to the individual and consolidated financial statements as at December 31, 2022.

As a result of these procedures, we identified an audit adjustment indicating the need to reverse the provision for tax contingencies. Management did not make this adjustment since this amount was not considered material on the individual and consolidated financial statements taken as a whole.

Based on the results of the audit procedures performed on provision for tax contingencies, which are consistent with the executive board's assessment, we believe that the criteria and assumptions adopted by the executive board, as well as respective disclosure in Note 23, are acceptable in the context of the financial statements taken as a whole.

Information technology environment

This was considered a key audit matter due to the volume of transactions and to the fact that the operations performed by the Company and its subsidiaries are highly dependent on the proper operation of the IT systems, applications and structure, also considering the nature of Company business and its geographic location.

How our audit addressed this matter

Our audit procedures involved, among others: (i) assessing the design and operating efficiency of Information Technology General Controls ("ITCG") implemented by the Company for the systems and applications that we considered significant for generating information that has a direct impact on the individual and consolidated financial statements; (ii) analyzing audit procedures to assess the efficiency of controls over logical accesses, change management and information technology operations, report processing and other technology aspects; (iii) involving IT professionals to assist us in performing these procedures; (iv) reviewing the process for generating and extracting reports that support accounting balances; and (v) performing adherence tests on the information produced by the Company's systems and applications.

With regard to controls over logical accesses, we: (i) analyzed the process of authorization and granting of new users, the timely revocation of access to employees transferred or separated and the periodic review of users; and (ii) evaluated password policies, security settings and access to information technology resources.

With regard to the change management process, we: (i) assessed whether the changes in the systems have been duly authorized and approved by the Company's board of directors; and (ii) analyzed the operations management process, focusing on policies for safeguarding information and the timely handling of incidents.

We identified deficiencies in the controls over access granting, over management of accesses of transferred employees, service providers and privileged users in the applications, and over periodic review of access profiles. Additionally, we identified opportunities for improvement in application password parameters.

The deficiencies in the design and operation of ITGCs changed our evaluation regarding the nature, timing and extent of our substantive procedures planned to obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence. Taking into consideration the increase in extent of our audit procedures, which we deemed appropriate, the results of these procedures provided us with sufficient and appropriate audit evidence in the context of the individual and consolidated financial statements as at December 31, 2022.

Other matters

Statements of value added

The individual and consolidated statements of value added (SVA) for the year ended December 31, 2022, prepared under the Company's board of directors responsibility and presented as supplementary information under IFRS, were subject to audit procedures performed in conjunction with the audit of Company financial statements. In order to form our opinion, we analyzed whether these statements are reconciled to the financial statements and accounting records, as applicable, and whether their form and content meet the criteria defined in Accounting Pronouncement NBC TG 09 – Statements of Value Added. In our opinion, these statements of value added were fairly prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the criteria defined in this Accounting Pronouncement and are consistent with the individual and consolidated financial statements taken as a whole.

Audit of corresponding figures

The Company's individual and consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2020 were audited by other independent auditors, who issued their unmodified opinion on these financial statements on March 14, 2022.

Other information accompanying the individual and consolidated financial statements and independent auditor's report

The Company's executive board is responsible for such other information, which comprises the Management Report.

Our opinion on the individual and consolidated financial statements does not cover the Management Report and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the individual and consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the Management Report and, in doing so, consider whether this report is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of the Management Report, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the executive board and those charged with governance for the individual and consolidated financial statements

The executive board is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the individual and consolidated financial statements in accordance with the accounting practices adopted in Brazil and with the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), and for such internal control as Management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free of material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the individual and consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's and its subsidiaries' financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the individual and consolidated financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the individual and consolidated financial statements as a whole are free of material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Brazilian and International Standards on Auditing will always detect material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Brazilian and International Standards on Auditing, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identified and assessed the risks of material misstatements of the individual and consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, designed and performed audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtained audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtained an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's and its subsidiaries' internal control.
- Evaluated the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the executive board.
- Concluded on the appropriateness of the executive board's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast substantial doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the individual and consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluated the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the individual and consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Building a better
working world

- Obtained sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the individual and consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the scope and timing of the planned audit procedures and significant audit findings, including deficiencies in internal control that we may have identified during our audit.

We also provided those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements, including applicable independence requirements, and communicated with them all relationships and other matters that could reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determined those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current year and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

2.4. Impacts related to the Covid-19 pandemic

The spread of Covid-19 has affected business and economic activities on a global scale since the beginning of 2020. Since the beginning of the pandemic, the Company established an internal Contingency Committee that monitors its evolution, making important decisions, having elected three priorities: the health and safety of its employees, the continuity of operations, and the maintenance of jobs.

Considering these three pillars to face the crisis, the Company took certain measures and made assessments in line with CVM/SNC Memorandum Circulars No. 02 and No. 03/2020, analyzing the key risks and uncertainties arising from Covid-19 in relation to its financial statements, such as a going concern risk assessment and indications of a possible impairment in Company assets. After these analyses, the Company concluded that there were no going-concern risks or impairment of assets.

In 2022, the Company did not find any indication of impairment of its assets. Additionally, on the date of disclosure of these financial statements, all of the Company's brick-and-mortar stores were operating normally.

3. Significant accounting policies and practices

Significant accounting policies and practices are described in each corresponding note, except those presented below, which are related to more than one note. The accounting policies and practices have been consistently applied to all the years presented and to Company's individual and consolidated financial statements.

3.2. Impairment of assets

i) Non-financial assets

The book value of the Company's non-financial assets is reviewed at the statement of financial position date to identify if there is any indication of impairment. #### 3.2. Impairment of assets (Continued)

Investees recorded under the equity method

An impairment loss referring to an investee valued under the equity method is measured by comparing the investment's recoverable amount to its carrying amount. Impairment losses are recognized in the statement of profit or loss and are reversed if there has been a favorable change in the estimates used for determining the recoverable amount.

ii) Allocation of goodwill

Goodwill is allocated to each cash-generating unit and is annually tested for impairment or, more frequently, when there is an indication that a cash-generating unit is performing below expectations. If the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit is lower than its book value plus allocated goodwill, the impairment loss is firstly allocated to reduce the unit's goodwill and subsequently to the other assets of the unit in proportion to the carrying amount of each asset. Any loss on goodwill is recognized directly in P&L for the year in which this loss was identified, and not reversed in subsequent periods, even if the factors that led to recording of such loss no longer exist.

3.3. Adjustments to present value

Significant transactions that result in adjustments to present value refer to purchase of goods for resale, carried out in installments, as well as transactions for the resale of goods, whose balances are paid in installments by customers at fixed interest rates. Sales and purchases are discounted to establish respective present value on transaction date and considering the installment terms.

The discount rate used considers the effects of the financing rates applied to the final consumer, weighted by the percentage of default risk assessed and already considered in the provision for expected credit loss.

The adjustment to present value of operations relating to installment resale of goods is matched against Trade accounts receivable. Realization thereof is recorded under Revenues from resale of goods over the term granted to customers.

Adjustments to present value of liabilities relating to purchase of goods for resale is recorded under trade accounts payable matched against inventories. Reversals are accounted for under cost of goods resold and services rendered, upon lapse of the term.

3. Significant accounting policies and practices (Continued)

3.4. Provisions

Provisions are recognized for present risks or obligations arising from past events, whose amounts may be reliably estimated and settlement is likely to occur. The provision amount recognized is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the obligation at the end of each year or period, considering risks and uncertainties relating to the obligation.

3.5. Employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits

These are recognized as personnel expenses to the extent that the corresponding service is provided. The liability is recognized at the amount expected to be paid if the Company has a legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of prior services rendered by the employee, and the obligation can be reliably estimated.

Share-based payment agreements

Fair value at the grant date of share-based payment agreements entered into with eligible employees is recognized as personnel expenses, with a corresponding increase in equity, over the period in which such employees become unconditionally entitled to the premiums. The amount recognized as expense is adjusted to reflect the number of awards that effectively meet the performance and service conditions at vesting date.

3.6. Statements of value added (SVA)

This statement aims at evidencing the wealth created by the Company and its distribution over a certain period. The SVA is presented as part of the Company's individual financial statements as required by the Brazilian Corporation Law, and as supplementary information to the consolidated financial statements, as it is not a statement required under IFRS.

3.7. Fair value measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received upon sale of an asset or paid for the transfer of a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, on the Company's primary market or, in the absence thereof, on the most advantageous market to which the Company has access on such date. The fair value of a liability reflects its risk of non-performance. Non-compliance risk includes the Company's credit risk, among others.

When available, the Company measures the fair value of a security using the price quoted on an active market for such instrument. A market is considered as active if the transactions for the asset or liability take place with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis.

If no prices are quoted on an active market, the Company uses measurement techniques that maximize the use of observable data and minimize the use of non-observable data. The valuation technique elected incorporates all the factors that market players would take into account when pricing a transaction.

The best evidence of the fair value of a financial instrument upon initial recognition is usually the transaction price – i.e. fair value of the consideration given or received.

3.8. New standards and interpretations not yet effective

New and amended standards and interpretations issued but not yet in effect until the date of issue of Company financial statements are described below. The Company intends to adopt these standards and interpretations when they become effective, if applicable.

- IFRS 17/CPC 50 – Insurance Contracts: new comprehensive accounting standard for insurance contracts that includes recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure. This standard does not apply to the Company and will come into effect on January 01, 2023.
- Amendments to IAS 1 – Classification of Liabilities as Current or Noncurrent. This amendment will come into effect on January 01, 2023.
- Amendments to IAS 8 – Definition of Accounting Estimates. This amendment will come into effect on January 01, 2023.
- Amendments to IFRS Practice Statement 2: Disclosure of Accounting policies. This amendment will come into effect on January 01, 2023.
- Amendments to IAS 12: Deferred Taxes relating to Assets and Liabilities arising from a single transaction. In May 2021, the Board released amendments to IAS 12, which narrow the scope of the initial recognition exception under IAS 12 so that it no longer applies to transactions that give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences.

The Company is currently assessing the impacts of these changes.

4. Significant accounting judgments and sources of uncertainties in estimates

In applying the Company's accounting policies, management makes judgments and prepares estimates on book values of assets and liabilities for which objective information is not easily obtained from other sources. Estimates and respective assumptions are based on historic experience and on other factors that are considered relevant. Actual results of these book values may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Reviewed estimates are recorded prospectively.

4. Significant accounting judgments and sources of uncertainties in estimates (Continued)

a) Judgments

Information about judgments referring to application of accounting policies which have significant impacts on the amounts recognized in the individual and consolidated financial statements are included in the following notes:

- Note 2.3 - Basis of consolidation and investments in subsidiaries: determining whether the Company actually has control over an investee.
- Note 10 – calculating State VAT (ICMS) credits recoverable included in legal proceedings whose final unappealable decisions are expected for the next few months.
- Notes 10 and 11 – calculating income and social contribution tax credits, obtained through application of the concept set forth in Supplementary Law No. 160/2017 and Central Bank Benchmark Rate (Selic) adjustment to undue tax payments.
- Note 14 – determining the lease period of agreements subject to renewal option clauses.

b) Uncertainties on assumptions and estimates

Information on uncertainties as to assumptions and estimates that pose a significant risk of resulting in a material adjustment to the book balances of assets and liabilities in the next fiscal year are included in the following notes:

- Note 7 – Trade accounts receivable: criteria and amounts of provision for expected credit losses;
- Note 8 – Inventories: criteria and amounts of provision for inventory losses;
- Note 10 – Taxes recoverable: the criteria for assessing the periods for recovery of tax credits involve a high level of judgment in determining offset assumptions;
- Note 11 - Deferred income and social contribution taxes: availability of future taxable profit against which tax losses may be used;
- Notes 15 and 16 – Property and equipment and intangible assets – estimated useful life of noncurrent assets;
- Notes 16 and 12b – Determining goodwill upon acquisition of companies is a complex process, which involves a high level of subjectivity and is based on several assumptions such as identification of cash-generating units, discount rates, projected inflation, growth percentages, longevity and profitability of the Company's business for the next years, among others. These assumptions will be affected by market conditions or future economic scenarios in Brazil, which cannot be accurately estimated;
- Note 23 – Provision for tax, civil and labor contingencies: significant assumption on the likelihood and magnitude of fund outflows;
- Note 31 – Impairment of assets: determining fair value based on significant non-observable data.

5. Cash and cash equivalents

Accounting policy

Company management defines cash and cash equivalents as amounts held so as to meet short-term financial commitments rather than for investment or other purposes. Short-term investments are readily convertible into a known cash amount, are not subject to a significant risk of change in value and are recorded at cost plus yield earned until the statement of financial position dates, not exceeding market or realizable value.

7. Trade accounts receivable

Accounting policy

Trade accounts receivable are recorded and maintained in the statement of financial position at the securities amount, adjusted to present value, as applicable, represented mainly by resale receivables payable in installments and by credit card, accounts receivable for services rendered, receivables from suppliers' bonuses and provision for expected credit losses, which is set up in an amount considered sufficient by management to cover any risks on the financing portfolio and other amounts receivable existing at the statement of financial position date. The criterion for recording the provision considers, for retail activities, the historical loss indices per maturity bracket of the portfolio (Note 30).

- Accounts receivable from sales made through credit and debit cards, which the Company receives from the buyers in amounts, terms and number of installments defined at the time of sale of the products. The consolidated financial statements include receivables from buyers transacted through Magalu Pagamentos, to be transferred to the partners (sellers) as described in Note 18. As at December 31, 2022, the Company recorded receivables assigned to certain buyers and financial institutions amounting to R$ 2,693,143 (R$ 2,656,104 at December 31, 2021) – individual, and R$ 4,944,607 (R$ 5,165,898 at December 31, 2021) – consolidated, on which a discount ranging from 105.9% to 108.72% of the CDI is applied. - This refers to receivables from sales financed by the Company and by other financial institutions.
- This refers substantially to sales intermediated by the Company for Luizaseg and Cardif do Brasil Seguros e Garantias S.A. - This refers mostly to receivables for transportation services of subsidiaries Magalog and GFL Logística to third parties, as well as services rendered and entries in Hub Fintech's payment accounts.
- This refers to bonuses to be received from suppliers, arising from the fulfillment of the purchase volume, as well as from agreements that define the share of suppliers in disbursements related to advertising and marketing (joint advertising). The balance presented is net of the amounts to be offset due to matching to balances payable to respective suppliers, provided for in partnership agreements entered into by the parties.

8. Inventories

Accounting policy

Inventories are measured at the lower of average acquisition cost and net realizable value. Average acquisition cost comprises purchase price, non-recoverable taxes, such as ICMS tax substitution, as well as other costs directly attributable to the acquisition. Provisions for inventory losses are comprised of provision for realization of inventories that corresponds to the inventories' estimated selling price less all costs required to consummate the sale and provision for obsolescence, which considers slow-moving goods and those sent to technical assistance, in addition to provision for losses on physical inventories of stores and distribution centers.

- (a) These refer to accumulated credits of own ICMS and by tax substitution, arising from the application of diversified rates in interstate receiving and shipping operations. These credits are realized by means of request for refund and offset of debts of the same nature with states of origin of the credit.

The Company is a party to lawsuits in different states challenging the use of amounts of refund of State VAT – Tax Substitution (ICMS/ST) arising from sales to end consumers for an amount lower than the presumed tax base of periods prior to the erga omnes effect granted by the Federal Supreme Court (STF) on the matter in 2016, for which the final and unappealable decision is expected for the coming months. Considering the procedural progress, the Company reached the understanding that a favorable outcome for these suits is practically certain, and obtained legal opinions from its advisors confirming this understanding. Accordingly, restated credits of R$ 539,796 were recognized in 2021, of which R$ 348,383 refers to principal and R$ 191,413 to monetary restatement.

- (b) In 2019, a final favorable decision was handed down on the proceedings claiming the right to exclude State VAT (ICMS) from the tax bases of Contribution Tax on Gross Revenue for Social Integration Program (PIS) and Contribution Tax on Gross Revenue for Social Security Financing (COFINS), regarding Magazine Luiza S.A. and its merged company FS Vasconcelos Ltda. Two lawsuits were filed in 2007, ensuring the right to recognize tax credits in the statute of limitation period from 2002 to 2014, and another lawsuit was filed in 2017, ensuring the right to the credit for the period after Law No. 12973/14. The recorded amount for these lawsuits was R$ 1,190,050, of which R$ 713,455 refers to principal and R$ 476,595 to monetary restatement.

Also in 2019, a final decision was handed down for subsidiary Netshoes on the same issue. The lawsuit was filed in 2014 and ensures the tax credit from 2009 to 2014 totaling R$ 119,035, of which R$ 73,093 refers to principal and R$ 45,942 to monetary restatement.

The credits related to these proceedings were calculated with the support of legal and tax advisors, considering the periods indicated above and the Company's right to exclude ICMS from the PIS and COFINS tax bases without any restrictions, since the decisions that have become final guarantee that all the ICMS required from the Company should be excluded from the PIS and COFINS tax bases, regardless of the collection method, according to Company legal advisors.

Offset of the credits occurs as the validations take place via administrative procedures with the Brazilian IRS.

11. Income and social contribution taxes

Accounting policy

Current and deferred income tax is calculated at the rate of 15%, plus a surtax of 10% on taxable profit exceeding 240 thousand for income tax whereas social contribution is calculated at 9% on taxable profit, and take into consideration income and social contribution tax losses to be offset, to the limit of 30% of taxable profit.

Current taxes

Income and social contribution taxes are recorded in P&L for the year. Provisions for income and social contribution taxes are calculated individually by the entities belonging to the Company based on the rates in effect at year end.

Government grants are matched against sales taxes and recorded when it is reasonably certain that the benefit will be received and that all related conditions will be met.

Deferred taxes

Deferred income and social contribution taxes (deferred taxes) are recorded on temporary differences between assets and liabilities recorded in the financial statements and respective tax bases, used for calculating taxable profit, including income and social contribution tax losses that may be carried indefinitely. Deferred tax liabilities are usually recognized on all taxable temporary differences, and deferred tax assets are recognized on all deductible temporary differences, only when the future tax basis is likely to be sufficient to absorb these deductible temporary differences.

The probability of recovery of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each year and when future tax bases are no longer likely to be available and allow full or partial recovery of these taxes, the asset balance is reduced to the amount that is expected to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are mutually offset only when there is a legal right to offset, when they are related to taxes managed by the same tax authority and the Company intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

As such, previously unused income and social contribution tax credits on net income were recorded for the periods from 2017 to 2020, based on the assessment that a favorable outcome is possible, tending to probable, in case of inquiries, in accordance with ICPC 22 – Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments (equivalent to IFRIC 23). Accordingly, the Company reviewed its tax calculations and recorded these amounts against current and deferred income and social contribution taxes in P&L for the year. - (1) As mentioned in item "a" above, the Company, in performing its regular activities, takes advantage of a series of tax benefits granted by the states. Based on the concept brought by Supplementary Law No. 160/2017, these benefits are considered investment grants and, according to CPC 07 – Government grants and assistance, they are recorded in P&L for the year.
- (2) On September 24, 2021, in a decision of the Federal Supreme Court with recognized erga omnes effect, the levy of IRPJ and CSLL on amounts related to the Selic rate received due to repetition of undue tax payment was declared unconstitutional. The Company has a writ of mandamus, dated before the judgment of the Federal Supreme Court, whose subject matter is precisely the recognition of the illegitimacy of the levy of IRPJ and CSLL on Selic in tax credits. Based on the decision of the STF, the Company permanently excluded these amounts from the tax base, considering that it is likely that the decision will be accepted by the tax authorities, pursuant to ICPC 22 – Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments (equivalent to IFRIC 23).

d) Deferred income and social contribution taxes – unrecorded credits

Subsidiary Netshoes accumulated income and social contribution tax losses in the past few years and, as such, recorded no credits on deferred income and social contribution taxes. Income and social contribution tax assets may be recorded when Netshoes presents future taxable profit and the tax benefits are likely to be realized. As at December 31, 2022, subsidiary Netshoes has R$ 357,923 (R$ 381,545 at December 31, 2021) in unrecorded deferred taxes, of which R$ 304,351 (R$ 305,019 at December 31, 2021) relating to income and social contribution tax losses and R$ 53,582 (R$ 76,526 at December 31, 2021) relating to temporary differences.

e) IFRIC 23/ ICPC 22 – Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments

This interpretation explains how to consider uncertainties in accounting for income tax. IAS 12/CPC32 - Income Taxes specifies how to account for current and deferred income taxes, but not how to reflect the effects of uncertainty. For instance, it may not be clear: i) how to apply the tax legislation to specific transactions or circumstances; ii) or whether the tax authorities will accept a particular tax treatment adopted by the entity.

If the entity understands that a specific tax treatment is not likely to be accepted, such entity must use estimates (most likely amount or expected amount) to determine the tax treatment (taxable profit, tax bases, unused tax losses, unused tax credits), and tax rates among others. The decision must be based on the method providing the best possible solution for the uncertainty.

Except for the issues mentioned in item b) (1) and (2) above, Company management understands that the application of this interpretation did not have material impacts on these financial statements.

12. Investments in subsidiaries

Accounting policy

Business combinations are recorded using the acquisition method when control is transferred to the Company. The consideration transferred is usually measured at fair value, as well as the identifiable net assets acquired. Any goodwill arising in the transaction is tested annually for impairment. If the contingent consideration is classified as an equity instrument, this amount is not remeasured and respective settlement is recorded in equity. The remaining contingent consideration amounts are measured at fair value at each reporting date, and subsequent changes in fair value are recorded in the statement of profit or loss for the year. Transaction costs are recorded in profit or loss as incurred, except costs related to the issue of debt or equity instruments. Transferred consideration does not include amounts referring to payment of pre-existing relations. These amounts are usually recognized in profit or loss for the year. Any contingent consideration payable is measured at fair value on acquisition date.

13. Investments in jointly-controlled entities

Accounting policy

Investments in joint ventures are initially recognized at cost. As of acquisition date, the book value of the investment is adjusted to recognize changes in the Company's interest in the joint venture's equity.

The statement of profit or loss reflects the Company's interest in the operating income (loss) of the joint venture. Any change in other comprehensive income (loss) of these investees is presented as part of the Company's other comprehensive income (loss). Additionally, when a change is recognized directly in equity of the joint venture, the Company will recognize its interest in any changes, when applicable, in the statement of changes in equity. Unrealized gains and losses arising from transactions between the Company and the joint venture are eliminated in proportion to the interest in joint venture.

The financial statements of joint venture are prepared for the same reporting period as the Company. When necessary, adjustments are made so that the accounting policies are aligned with those of the Company.

After applying the equity method, the Company determines whether it is necessary to recognize additional impairment on the investment in its joint venture. The Company determines, at each statement of financial position closing date, if there is objective evidence that investment in the joint venture is impaired. If that is the case, the Company calculates the impairment amount as the difference between the joint venture's recoverable amount and carrying amount, and recognizes the loss in the statement of profit or loss. The Company identified no objective evidence of impairment in 2022 and 2021.

14. Leases

The Company acts as a lessee in agreements mainly related to real estate (brick-and-mortar stores, distribution centers and administrative units). As of 2019, the Company recognizes these agreements in accordance with CPC 06 (R2)/IFRS 16, in the statement of financial position as rights of use and lease liabilities.

Accounting policy

The Company recognizes a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at lease commencement date. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost and subsequently at cost less any accumulated depreciation and impairment, and adjusted for certain remeasurements of the lease liability. Depreciation is calculated on a straight-line basis over the remaining term of the agreements.

The Company used as a cost component the fixed lease payments or fixed in essence, which would be the minimum agreed payments in accordance with the contracts subject to variable payments based on revenue achieved. Payment amounts specifically variable are not within the scope of CPC 06 (R2) and are recorded monthly as operating expenses.

Lease liabilities are initially measured at present value of the lease amounts that were not paid at lease commencement date, discounted using the incremental rate on the lease, which is defined as a rate equivalent to the rate that the lessee would have to pay for a loan over a similar period and subject to a similar guarantee, for the funds necessary to obtain an asset of a similar value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment.

The Company is a party to certain contracts with indefinite terms. Considering that both lessor and lessee have the right to cancel a contract at any time, with an insignificant fine, if any, the Company understands that such contracts are outside the scope of CPC 06 (R2), and such payments are recognized as operating expenses, should they occur. As at December 31, 2022, the Company recorded variable lease expenses or expenses with an indefinite term amounting to R$ 51,397 (R$ 50,260 at December 31, 2021).

Additional information

As described above, the Company adopted, as a discount rate for lease liabilities, the incremental loan rate, which is calculated as a basic interest rate that can be promptly observable, adjusted for the Company's credit risk, to the terms of the lease agreements and the nature and quality of any guarantees to be pledged. Considering that the Company's lease agreements are substantially agreements with payment flows indexed by inflation rates and considering the disclosure suggestions published in CVM/SNC/SEP Memorandum Circular No. 02/19, the Company provides below additional information about the agreements' characteristics so that users of these financial statements may, at their discretion, prepare projections of future payment flows indexed for inflation for the period.

15. Property and equipment

Accounting policy

Property and equipment items are stated at acquisition or build-up cost, less respective accumulated depreciation amounts, except land and construction in progress, plus interests incurred and capitalized during the assets' construction phase, where applicable. Depreciation is recognized based on the estimated useful life of each asset or family of assets under the straight-line method, so that the asset's residual value after its useful life is fully written off. The estimated useful life, residual values and amortization method are reviewed on an annual basis, and the effect of any changes in estimates is accounted for prospectively.

A property and equipment item is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its continued use. Gains and losses upon disposal or write off are recorded in P&L as incurred.

The accounting policy for impairment of property and equipment is described in Note 3.2.

Changes in property and equipment in the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021 were as follows:

Impairment of assets

The Company updated its financial projections in the years presented and identified no internal or external elements that would indicate the need to make specific calculations to assess any impairment of property and equipment.

16. Intangible assets

Accounting policy

Goodwill computed upon acquisition of investments are initially measured as the excess of consideration transferred in relation to net assets acquired (net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed). After initial recognition, indefinite-lived goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment (Note 3.2).

Software refers to the acquisition cost of the corporate management system, which has been amortized on a straight-line basis over five years.

Research expenditures are recorded as expenses when incurred, and development expenditures linked to technology innovations of existing products are capitalized if they are technologically and economically feasible, and amortized over the expected period of benefits in the operating expenses group. While such developments are not ended, balances are controlled in the group of "Projects in progress".

Intangible assets acquired in a business combination are substantially related to goodwill computed upon acquisition of investments. In the consolidated financial statements, intangible assets acquired in a business combination and recognized separately from goodwill are recorded at fair value at the date of acquisition, which is equivalent to their cost.

An intangible asset is derecognized upon disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from this asset. These future economic benefits are recognized in income (loss) when the asset is written off.

The accounting policy for impairment of intangible assets is described in Note 3.2.

Changes in intangible assets in the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021 were as follows:

Impairment test of goodwill and intangible assets

Goodwill and other intangible assets were tested for impairment as at December 31, 2022 and 2021. Management prepared an estimate of all assets’ recoverable amount or value in use.

Goodwill impairment test upon acquisition of companies comprises calculating the recoverable amounts of the Cash-Generating Units (CGU) identified in each business. A relevant CGU identified is the grouping of all brick-and-mortar retail chain stores acquired, whose goodwill totals R$ 313,856 and has already been merged. Other relevant CGUs identified are: i) the fashion and sports vertical, whose goodwill corresponds mainly to the acquisition of Netshoes; and ii) the e-commerce operation of KaBum.

CGU value in use is determined using the discounted cash flow method, before taxes, at the following rates:

	Brick-and-mortar retail	Netshoes	Kabum
	Annual rate
Discounted cash flow – discount rate, before taxes	12.2%	14.5%	13.6%
Weighted average growth rate in the first five years	8.7%	3.4%	5.3%
Perpetuity	3.3%	3.3%	3.3%

Future cash flow assumptions and growth perspective for the CGUs are based on the Company's annual budget and on business plans for the next years approved by the Board of Directors, as well as on comparable market data representing management's best estimate regarding economic conditions prevailing during the useful life of the group of assets generating cash flows. Based on the tests carried out, the Company identified no impairment of goodwill amounts recorded.

The Company conducted a sensitivity analysis taking into consideration an increase and a decrease in growth rates and a discount of 1%, which resulted in no need to set up provision for impairment.

18. Trade accounts payable – agreements

Accounting policy

In consonance with best governance and transparency practices, and with a view to adopting the suggestions issued by the Accounting Standards Superintendence (SNC) and the Company Relations Superintendence (SEP) of the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission (CVM) in Memorandum Circular No. 01/22 and prior memorandum circulars, the Company decided to present separately from Trade accounts payable (Note 17) the amounts referring to agreement operations, which nevertheless remain sale transactions in essence. For better presenting the 2021 comparative balance, the Company reclassified the balances presented in the statement of financial position and statement of cash flow.

The Company and partnering banks entered into agreements to structure advance on receivables transactions with Company main suppliers, in which the Company is the lawful debtor. In these transaction, suppliers transfer to the bank the right to receive the notes in exchange for early receipt. The bank then becomes creditor of the operation. The Company settles the note on the date originally agreed upon with its supplier. Additionally, the Company confirms the existence of the suppliers' receivables to the banks and ensures these banks of the certainty and liquidity of these receivables. As such, the Company receives a premium from the banks, which is recognized as finance income on the same accrual basis as the operation. As at December 31, 2022, outstanding operations contracted were subject to an average term of 54 days.

29. Finance income/(costs)

Accounting policy

Interest revenue and expenses are recognized in income (loss) using the effective interest method. The 'effective interest rate' is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument to:

- (i) gross book value of financial assets; or
- (ii) at amortized cost of financial liabilities. In the calculation of interest income or expenses, the effective interest rate is levied on the gross book value of the assets or at amortized cost of the liabilities.

The Company classifies interest received, dividends and interest on equity received as cash flows from operating activities. Interest paid on loans and financing are classified as cash flows from financing activities.

31. Financial instruments

Accounting policy

Initial classification and subsequent measurement

Upon initial recognition, financial assets are classified as measured at amortized cost, at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI) or at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL). A financial asset is measured at amortized cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as measured at FVTPL:

- It is held within a business model whose objective is to hold financial assets for the purpose of receiving contractual cash flows; and
- Its contractual terms generate, on specific dates, cash flows that are related solely to the payment of principal and interest on the outstanding principal amount.

A debt instrument is measured at FVTOCI if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as measured at FVTPL:

- It is held within a business model whose objective is achieved both by receiving contractual cash flows and by selling financial assets; and
- Its contractual terms generate, on specific dates, cash flows that are related solely to the payment of principal and interest on the outstanding principal amount.

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortized cost or at FVTOCI, as described above, are classified as at FVTPL. A financial asset (other than trade accounts receivable without a significant financing component that is initially measured at the transaction price) is initially measured at fair value, plus, for an item not measured at FVTPL, the transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition.

The following accounting policies apply to subsequent measurement of financial assets:

- Financial assets measured at FVTPL: These assets are subsequently measured at FVTPL. Net gains (losses), including interest, is recognized in P&L.
- Financial assets at amortized cost: These assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost, using the effective interest method. Amortized cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income, possible exchange gains and losses, and impairment are recognized in P&L. Any gain or loss upon derecognition is also stated in P&L.
- Financial assets measured at FVTOCI: These assets are subsequently measured at FVTOCI. Upon derecognition, accumulated gains (losses) in OCI are reclassified to P&L.

Financial liabilities are classified as measured at amortized cost or at FVTPL. A financial liability is classified as measured at fair value through profit or loss if it is classified as held for trading, is a derivative, or is designated as such upon initial recognition. Financial liabilities measured at FVTPL are measured at fair value and net gains (losses), including interest, are recognized in P&L. Other financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost, using the effective interest method. Interest expense and exchange gains and losses are recognized in P&L. Any gain or loss upon derecognition is also stated in P&L.

Derecognition and offset

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when its contractual rights to cash flows of the asset expire, or when it transfers the contractual rights to receive cash flows of a financial asset in a transaction in which substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred.

The Company derecognizes a financial liability when the contractual obligation is discharged or canceled or expires. Upon derecognition of a financial liability, the difference between the extinguished book value and the consideration paid (including transferred assets that do not flow through cash or liabilities assumed) is recognized in P&L.

Financial assets or liabilities are offset and the net amount is stated in the statement of financial position when, and only when, the Company has a currently enforceable legal right to offset the amounts and intends to settle on a net basis or realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Impairment of financial assets

The Company elected to measure allowance for losses on accounts receivable and other receivables and contractual assets in an amount equal to the lifetime expected credit loss. In determining whether the credit risk of a financial asset has significantly increased since initial recognition and in estimating expected credit losses, the Company considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes quantitative and qualitative information and analyses, based on the Company's experience, on credit assessment, and considering forward looking information, such as macroeconomic assumptions for inflation and sales growth. The Company considers a financial asset to be in default when: - It is unlikely that the creditor will pay its credit obligations in full, without resorting to actions such as realization of the guarantee (if any); or the financial asset is overdue for more than 30 days.

Measurement of expected credit losses

Expected credit losses are estimates weighted by the probability of credit losses. Credit losses are measured at present value based on all cash shortfalls (i.e., the difference between the cash flows due to the Company in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Company expects to receive).

Financial assets with credit recovery issues

At each reporting date, the Company assesses whether the financial assets recorded at amortized cost and those measured at FVTOCI are experiencing recovery issues. A financial asset has “credit recovery issues” when one or more events occur that adversely impact the financial asset's estimated future cash flows.

Fair value measurement

All assets and liabilities that are measured or disclosed at fair value in the financial statements are classified within the fair value hierarchy, as described below, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the overall fair value measurement:

- (a) Level 1 – quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- (b) Level 2 - valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is either directly or indirectly observable. The Company uses the discounted cash flow technique for its measurements;
- (c) Level 3 - valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is not available.

Valuation techniques and significant unobservable inputs:

Specific valuation techniques used to value financial instruments under Level 2 rules include:

- Quoted market prices or quotes from financial institutions or brokers for similar instruments.
- Discounted cash flows, which consider the present value of expected future payments, discounted at a risk-adjusted rate for the remaining financial instruments.

Capital risk management

The primary objective of the Company's capital management is to ensure its ability to continue as a going concern in order to offer return to shareholders and benefits to stakeholders, maintaining an adequate capital structure to reduce cost and maximize the resources to be applied in opening and modernization of stores, new technologies, process improvements, and advanced management methods.

The Company's capital structure comprises financial liabilities, cash and cash equivalents and marketable securities. From time to time, management reviews the capital structure and its ability to settle liabilities, as well as monitors, on a timely basis, the days purchase outstanding in relation to the average term of inventory turnover. Necessary actions are promptly taken in the event of significant imbalances.

Liquidity risk management

Ultimate responsibility for liquidity risk management rests with the Company's Finance Board, which prepares an appropriate liquidity risk management model to manage funding needs and liquidity management in the short, medium and long terms. The Company manages liquidity risk by continuously monitoring expected and actual cash flows, combining the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities, and maintaining close relationships with financial institutions, with frequent disclosure of information to support credit decisions should external resources be required.

The table below details the remaining contractual maturity of the Company's financial liabilities and contractual repayment terms. The table was prepared in accordance with the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities.

Contractual maturity is based on the earliest date on which the Company is required to settle the respective obligations.

Considerations about other financial risks

The Company's business is mostly comprised of the retail trade of consumer goods and insurance, financial and other services, as described in Note 30, segment information. The main market risk factors that affect the Company's business are summarized below:

Credit risk: the credit risk arises from the possibility that the Company may incur losses resulting from the non-receipt of amounts billed to its customers, the consolidated balance of which as of December 31, 2022 was R$ 6,985,941 (R$ 5,812,946 at December 31, 2021). A significant portion of the Company's sales are made using the credit card as payment method, which is substantially securitized with the credit card companies. For other accounts receivable, the Company also assesses the risk as low, in view of the natural dispersion of sales due to the large number of customers, but there are no real guarantees of receipt of the total balance of accounts receivable given the nature of the business. Even so, the risk is managed through periodic analysis of the level of default (with consistent criteria to support the requirements of IFRS 9), as well as adoption of more effective forms of collection. As at December 31, 2022, the Company recorded accounts receivable balances that would be overdue or lost, whose terms were renegotiated, in the amount of R$ 63,779 (R$ 49,123 as of December 31, 2021), which are included in the analysis on the need to set up a provision for expected credit losses. Note 7 provides further information on accounts receivable.

The Company's policy for investing in debt securities (financial investments) is to invest in securities that are assessed by the main credit rating agencies and that have a rating equal to or higher than the sovereign rating (on a global scale). As at December 31, 2022, almost all of the investments held by the Company have such a rating level, reaching the amount of R$ 910,399 (R$ 2,903,823 at December 31, 2021), individual, and R$ 2,474,329 (R$ 3,333,364 at December 31, 2021), consolidated.

Market risk: arises from the possible downturn in retail in the country's economic scenario. Management of the risks involved in these operations is carried out through the establishment of operational and commercial policies, determination of limits for transactions with derivatives, and constant monitoring of the positions assumed. The key related risks include fluctuations of the interest, inflation and exchange rates.

Currency risk: on the date of this quarterly information, the Company did not have significant directly traded foreign exchange transactions. However, many products sold by the Company, especially technology items, are manufactured locally but have various imported components, so their costs may vary with the exchange rate differences. Therefore, management of "indirect" currency risk is closely related to commercial management, price and margin of products and is carried out together with the suppliers, with the objective of not transferring large fluctuations to end customers.

Interest rate risk: the Company is exposed to floating interest rates linked to the Interbank Deposit Certificate (CDI), related to financial investments, loans and financing in reais, for which a sensitivity analysis was carried out, as described below.

As at December 31, 2022, management performed a sensitivity analysis considering a probable scenario and scenarios with decreases and increases of 25% and 50% in expected interest rates. The probable scenario, of decrease and increase in interest rates, was measured using future interest rates published by BM&F BOVESPA and/or BACEN, considering a base rate of CDI at 13.65% p.a.

34. Events after the reporting period

On March 06, 2023, the Company became aware of anonymous whistleblowing referring to practices allegedly in disagreement with the Company's Code of Conduct and Ethics, specifically irregularities involving operations with certain distributors and suppliers. The anonymous whistleblowing reported that the alleged practices involved supplier discount operations and mentions three distributors, which represented approximately 3.5% of total goods purchased in the course of 2022. In view of that, the Board of Directors instructed the Audit, Risk and Compliance Committee to investigate the facts alleged in the anonymous reporting, which is currently under way counting on advisory services provided by independent external experts.
